

Three Areas of Impact

Mid Point

The best players come straight into the back of the ball to the mid point.

High Point

Players who slice the golf ball come over the top on the downswing and impact at the high point. The club comes in steeply and has an oblique cutting action across the golf ball.

Low Point

Players who draw the ball hit more of the inside portion of the golf ball and reach impact from the inside to the low point. These players tend to take less turf and hit big hooks.
